COMPASS
1962

Crafton High School Library
24 Providence St.
Crafton, MA 07017

FOREWORD

For the past four years we, the class of 1962, have been students at Grafton High School. During these years we have learned much and have been prepared for life itself, thanks to our capable faculty and administration. As we leave Grafton High School together, we can be assured that "from these roots" we are prepared to meet life's requirements.

During these years, too, we have shared many memorable times. In this, the 1962 COMPASS, we will attempt to capture these memorable occasions and the familiar faces of our classmates and faculty with whom we have shared our four years at Grafton High School.

DEDICATION

It is with deepest gratitude that we, the class of 1962, dedicate our yearbook, the COMPASS, to you, MR. FRANCIS SCHLOSSER. You have been not just a teacher during these four, fleeting years, but a guiding friend, a moral example, and a steadfast root to cling to in our days of trial. You have improved and disciplined our minds, and have brought a smile to our faces many times.

We feel ourselves proud and fortunate to have been in your presenee at Grafton High School.

CLASS WILL

- I, David Adams, leave my place in the lunch line to anyone who can cut in fast enough.
- I, Richard Allen, leave this school in a cloud of smoke and a hearty "Hi-ho-Silver."
- I, Joseph Babowitch, leave Harvey E. White's physics films to any junior who wants them.
- I, George Bazinet, leave all my aches and pains to any football player who dares to take them.
- I, Ellen Belsito, leave, but not regretfully.
- I, Ronald Bonner, leave my smoking place to anyone who can find it.
- I, Paula Bradley, leave with a smile to walk down the aisle.
- I, Cindy Buck, leave my annual seat in French to my brother, Lenny, in hopes that he won't have to stay in it as long as I did.
- I, John Burrows, leave my legs to John Duffy knowing that they will come in handy.
- I, Linda Buzzel, leave stenography class with Norma, still shouting, "We will not make up our work."
- I, David Caldwell, leave to join Mouse and Okie in the wonderful world of w———, w——— and s———.
- I, Marijean Caldwell, leave a laugh to echo through the halls of Grafton High.
- I, Everett Campolito, leave Mr. Johnson's office for good.
- I, Marilyn Capezzuto, leave my ability of getting into trouble for talking, to any talkative junior.
- I, John Clair, leave my defensive end spot to Walter Pong.
- I, Robert Clapp, leave my great interest in knowledge to Sanford Shaw.
- I, Madelyn Cove, leave my bottle of tranquilizers to the next person who heads the junior prom.
- I, Marilyn Croteau, leave my dimples to anyone who can take the teasing that goes along with them.
- I, Beverly Crowell, leave my French book to my sister, Heather, in hopes that it's not all Greek to her.
- I, Timothy Cunningham, leave mine "tree-men-dus" a-mt of knowledge to Alfred E. Numen.
- I, Donna Day, leave my seat at lunch to Sandi.
- I, Kenneth Danielson, leave my practical jokes to any worthy Freshman.
- I, Paul DiPilato, leave my locker to any junior who has taken mechanics, because he'll need it.
- I, Pat Dohlus, leave, searching for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.
- I, Marie Dunbar, leave all of my worries and headaches of not doing my homework to my sister, Arlene.
- I, Fred Dyson, leave my muscular body, my handsome face and my curly hair to any deserving junior.
- I, James Eaton, leave my seat in physics class to Doug Lowe.
- I, Gary Fleming, leave my Cadillac parking space to anyone with a Volkswagen.
- I, Paul Fontaine, leave a quiet seat in the library.
- I, Ronald Froment, leave my books to anyone stupid enough to take them.
- I, Susan Glatki, leave, regretfully, Miss Droney's Spanish Class and all my profound knowledge in the language to anyone who has use for them.
- I, Alfred Grampetro, leave my No. 7 parking space to the next person who thinks 7 is a lucky number.
- I, Kenneth Grenier, leave my basketball shoes to my favorite French teacher.
- I, Raymond Grenier, leave nothing but take away much.
- I, Faye Holding, leave my place in the junior prom court to any lucky junior.
- I, Richard Holland, leave my nickname, Doberman, to Copey Nault.
- I, Marshall Holland, leave all my chemistry apparatus to anyone planning to enter the junk business.
- I, Barbara Hospod, leave my art of inertia in classes to Stephany Nadolink.
- I, Victor Houle, leave my parking spot number 9 to Ronnie Anderson.
- I, Walter Huchowski, leave my class dues to pay for more ashtrays.
- I, Edward Ide, leave and take everything with me.
- I, Cathy Jones, leave what little ability of education and sports I have to Sue Pichette and Tonya Benoit.
- I, Marie Nichols, leave my cold walks across to the P.A. building to my sister, Margaret.

- I, Richard Novia, leave for one reason. Sukie.
- I, Kathleen O'Connor, leave my seat (I hope) in shorthand to anyone who wants it.
- I, Frances Opatka, leave all my term papers, research notes and science projects to those who will make good use of them.
- I, Stan Opatka, leave my empty parking space to Bobby Shore.
- I, Robert Parmenter, leave.
- I, Robert Piercecchi, leave my slim physique to any junior with time enough to exercise.
- I, Mary Pollinger, leave my route to school to anyone who would enjoy a good physical workout at 17 minutes before 8 every morning.
- I, Phil Potter, leave the Tuesday and Thursday afternoon detention sessions to all Juniors who want them.
- I, Pat Proctor, leave my bouffant hair-do's and my can of hair spray to any junior with hair enough for them.
- I, Robert Pye, leave my history books to future historians.
- I, Dot Rand, leave the bookkeeping for the yearbook to whomever wants to do it.
- I, Robert Salek, leave my seat on the basketball bench to Rollie Maranda, hoping he won't wear it out.
- I, Michel Satkauskas, leave my hairy beard to Bobby Deyette, who needs it.
- I, Beverly Serra, leave with hopes that I will never have to come back.
- I, Douglas Smith, leave my brains in the chemistry lab, where I found them.
- I, Grace Soderberg, leave 6 years of Fite Team Fite, to Bonnie Nason.
- I, Ellen Sthika, leave my name Lucy Brown to Joanne Najemy, my feed bag to Mr. Novick, and my Corvette to Miss Droney.
- I, David Therrian, leave my good marks and study habits to Dickie Carey.
- I, Judith Tripp, leave the next four years of education, activities and good times to my sister, Linda, in hopes she will make better use of them than I did.
- I, Norma Trotter, leave my school skipping days to any deserving junior who's smart enough not to get caught.
- I, Norman Vigeant, leave Mr. Schlosser's "sponge" to the next one who gets tagged with it.
- I, Dennis Whitney, leave my position on the football team to David Gautheir.
- I, Stan Widing, leave all of Miss Cole's books on horses to Donna White.
- I, Robert Wiik, leave my fine handwriting to Mr. Lyons.
- I, Meg Williams, leave my size 10 shoes to Mr. Schlosser or anyone else who thinks they can fit into them.
- I, Donna Wyand, leave my Irish Temper to anyone who thinks they can handle it.
- I, Carole Juare, leave shorthand to anyone who can do it.
- I, Karen Kelley, leave April 1st to any daring sophomore in hopes that he succeeds.
- I, Marsha Knowlton, leave my gay rides on Axtell's bus to anyone strong enough to endure them.
- I, Jean Kuck, leave my position as co-captain to any majorette who is worthy of it.
- I, Sandra Labrie, the last of the Labrie sisters, leave with fond memories of Mr. Schlosser's World History class.
- I, John Lebel, leave by the same door that I entered.
- I, Larry Legassey, leave third period P.O.D. class while I'm still able.
- I, John Leofanti, leave, if they let me.
- I, Mary Leofanti, leave my title as class secretary to some lucky freshman to carry it for four full years.
- I, Ralph Michniewicz, leave to seek more education.
- I, Barbara Moninski, leave my ability to break lights with my baton to any brave majorette.
- I, Charles Nason, leave my stagnant 4 years of high school to any protozoa.
- I, Alfred Nevers, leave to the underclassmen in 6th period study the rubber stoppers from the chairs to throw around.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Junior Class

It is you we leave with greatest sorrow. We have shared three eventful years with you, the next leaders of Grafton High School. We are proud to leave such a capable class this honor, for your class has proven themselves to be forceful and ever climbing.

Do not let your past accomplishments allow you to relax your efforts. It is your senior year that is filled with decisions; make this last effort the strongest of all.

President: Douglas Lowe

Vice-President: Kathy Moroney

Secretary: Bonnie Nason

Treasurer: Joanne Najamy

Sophomore Class

Now, as sophomores, you have adjusted to the hardships, responsibilities, and glories of high school life. You will find your efforts well worthwhile; yet, perhaps it seems to you that high school is an endless stretch with no reward. In a few years you, as we have, will realize that high school is a memorable experience which will always remain with you.

We hope that you will look forward with anticipation to your coming years at "Dear Old Grafton."

President: Rosemary LaDuke

Vice-President: Mike Wenc

Secretary: Nancy Wood

Treasurer: Elizabeth Burns

Freshman Class

We say good-by to you, our little brothers and sisters. It hasn't been long since we too started on that path for the quest of knowledge. You will have to overcome many obstacles that always seem to hinder your progress. It is a long steep climb; yet, at the top many doors of opportunity are opened to you.

If you now set your roots firm and deep and your standards and goals high, your reward will be great. There is not better feeling than knowing that you have made use of every opportunity offered in your four years at G.H.S.; for then you are ready to face the world with determination.

JUNIOR HIGH ACTIVITIES

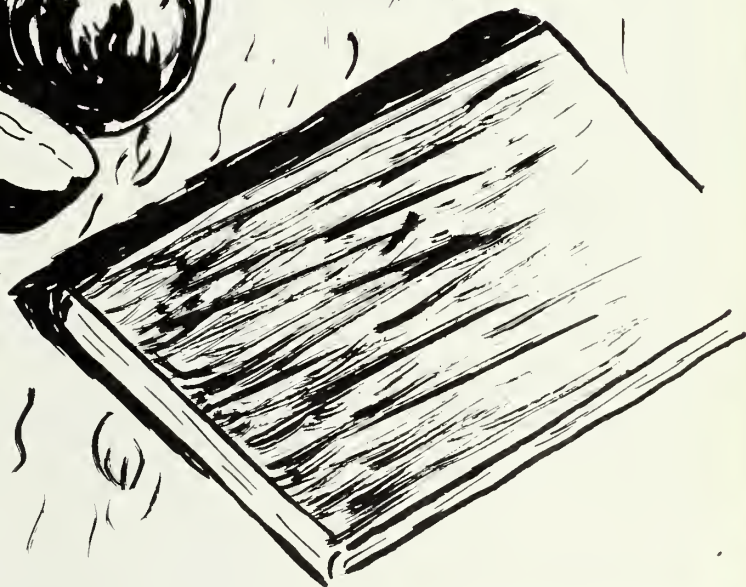

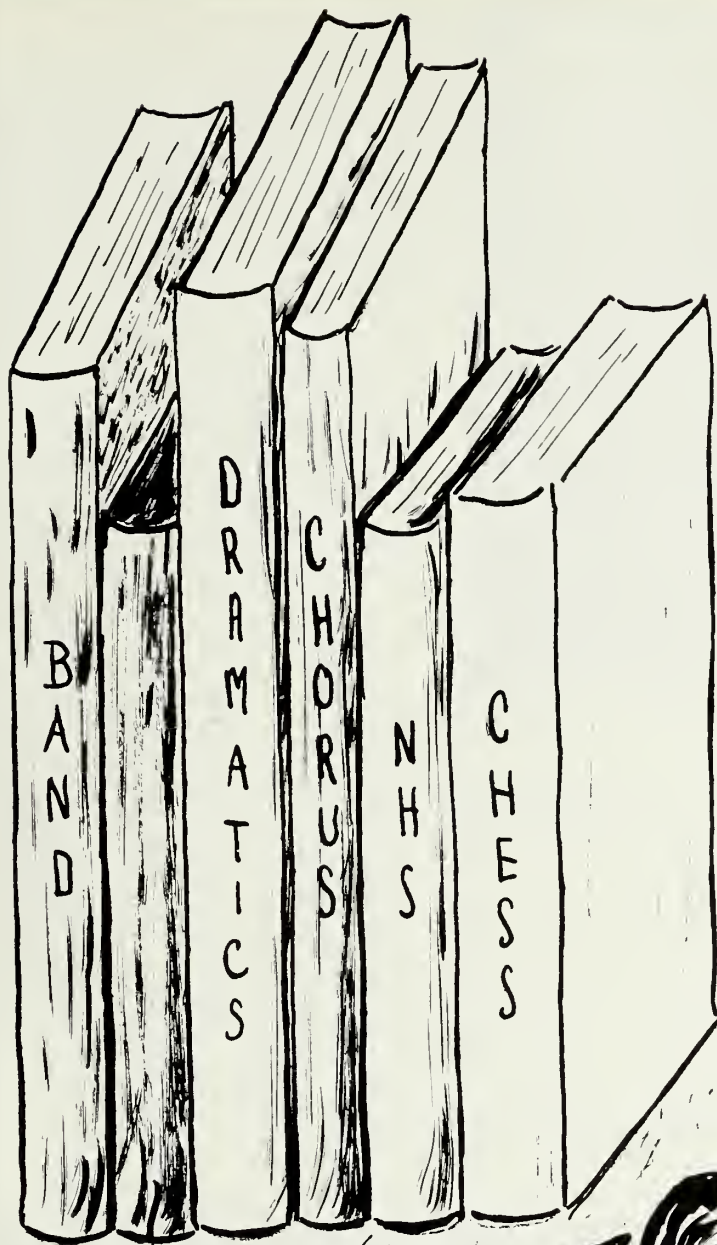

BASKETBALL TEAM

CHEERLEADERS

ACTIVITIES

The Student Council is the ruling body at Grafton High. It is made up of representatives from each class who bring ideas, wishes, and needs from the students and formulate new rules and procedures. A salute to this group for the way it keeps the school humming in a collective way.

Advisor: Miss Dorothy Droney
President: Linda Marean
Vice-President: Norman Vigeant

Treasurer: Marsha Knowlton

Student Council

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an Honorary society composed of students who have shown excellence in character, service, scholarship, and leadership in both school and community. The members are selected from the Junior and Senior classes. Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest distinction a student can attain.

Advisor: Mrs. Edith Lowell
President: Linda Marean
Vice-President: Grace Soderberg
Secretary-Treasurer: Marsha Knowlton

Under the direction of their coach, the G.H.S. debaters devote many hours in research, rehearsals, and review of their points on the very controversial subject of Federal Aid to Education. The valuable training that these students receive will be of benefit to them throughout their lives.

Advisor: Mr. Francis Schlosser

President: Natalie West

Vice-President: Sanford Shaw

Secretary-Treasurer: George Jalbert

Debating Society

Future Teachers of America

The F.T.A. is an organization composed of students interested in teaching as a future career. These students keep up to date on information concerning the fundamentals of teaching, openings, schools and financial aid. This results in a fine guidance program.

Advisor: Mr. Laval Provencher

The Chieftain, our school newspaper, is published quarterly. It contains stories, features, and news items of interest to teachers as well as students. Behind this publication is a staff of hard working students trying to please you, the reader. They have gained valuable experience in writing clearly and concisely and reporting events accurately.

Advisor: Mr. Richard Phillips

Editor-in-Chief: Grace Soderberg

Chieftain

Dramatics

Quiet on the set! Lights! Action! Act I . . . Little Women. Many hours of work are dedicated to the production of a fine play. The end results are fine character building and new friends who share the same interests in the arts.

Director-Advisor: Mr. Noe LeBeau

President: Linda Marean

Vice-President: Grace Soderberg

Secretary-Treasurer: Marsha Knowlton

This group is assembled to warm the hearts of all, through the raising of voices in harmony in a variety of songs from days of old to the latest Broadway hits. All of winter's hard work is displayed at the concert during the spring.

Director: Mr. Fred Orkiseski

Mixed Chorus

Girls' Chorus

The girls' chorus is a branch of the mixed chorus dedicated to singing light-hearted and gay songs loved by all. They join their voices with the chorus in pleasing us with the sounds of music.

Director: Mrs. Laura Marble

The Junior Red Cross is the school branch of the American Red Cross and engages in similar activities. Each year the members hold a party for less privileged children in Worcester County. They join in projects to help students overseas, aiding them after a disaster or sending them small, needed, personal articles.

Advisor: Mrs. Beatrice Wood

Chess Club

Concentration is the keynote of the Chess Club, for a careless move may cost the game. To best explain the game we call on T. H. Huxley:

"The chessboard is the world, the pieces are the phenomena of the universe, the rules are what we call Nature. The player is hidden from us, yet we know his play is just and fair. But we know to our cost he never overlooks a mistake or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance."

Advisor: Mr. Peter Levenson

Music, harmony, and rhythm keep the feet of G.H.S. students tapping during assemblies and football games. Their selections range from lilting waltzes to stirring tangos which warm the hearts of young and old.

Director: Mr. Fred Orkiseski

Grafton High School Band

Majorettes

Adorning the football field the majorettes faithfully and colorfully perform together with the band to give cheery half-time enjoyment. The girls, advised by Mrs. Wood and led by Nancy Wood, add to Grafton's football spirit.

R. MICH

8:00 Confusion.

Bells ringing, students rushing, friendly greetings, laughing voices, crowded corridors, books dropping, papers flying, banging doors, silence, at last. Thus our school day begins.

The mad rush to class . . .
 "Detention for being late?
 But 3 minutes isn't enough time to get here from the other building" . . . Room 33, "Humility is good for the soul."

Our fine business course!
 . . . Ding! time's up.
 P.O.D., a Senior's biggest problem . . . leftist or rightist?

Lunch time? Sounds more like an elephant feeding ground.

Good food served by a good-natured crew.

A haven for thirsty teachers.

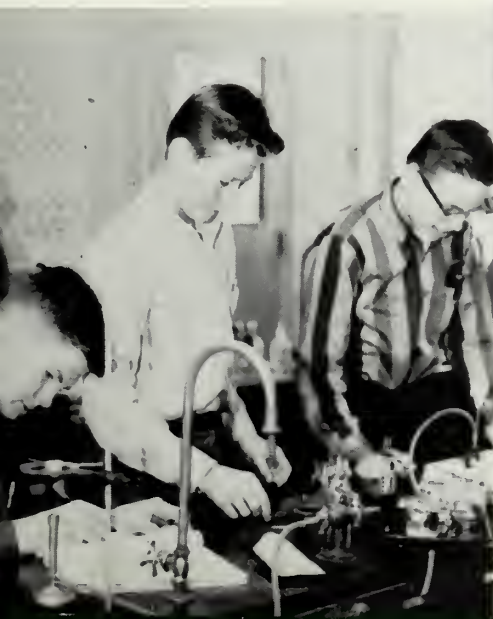

So? Peanut butter always sticks to the roof of your mouth.

A flying angel no less! . . .
and what is Mrs. Fitz making her girls do now? Danish exercises.

J'ai oublie faire mes devoirs, Mlle Droney.
How about a little more gunpowder?

Moments to remember . . .
drifting, dreaming,
dining and dancing

"I could have danced all night . . ."

What can be more breathtaking than a tied score with only a minute left in the game? A foul shot with seconds to go, a smooth, skillful goal, or a thrilling victory over a traditional foe by only one point are all moments to be remembered.

Skill, sacrifice and hard work win trophies.

We shall never forget our exciting football games and the joy of cheering as loud as our lungs would permit.

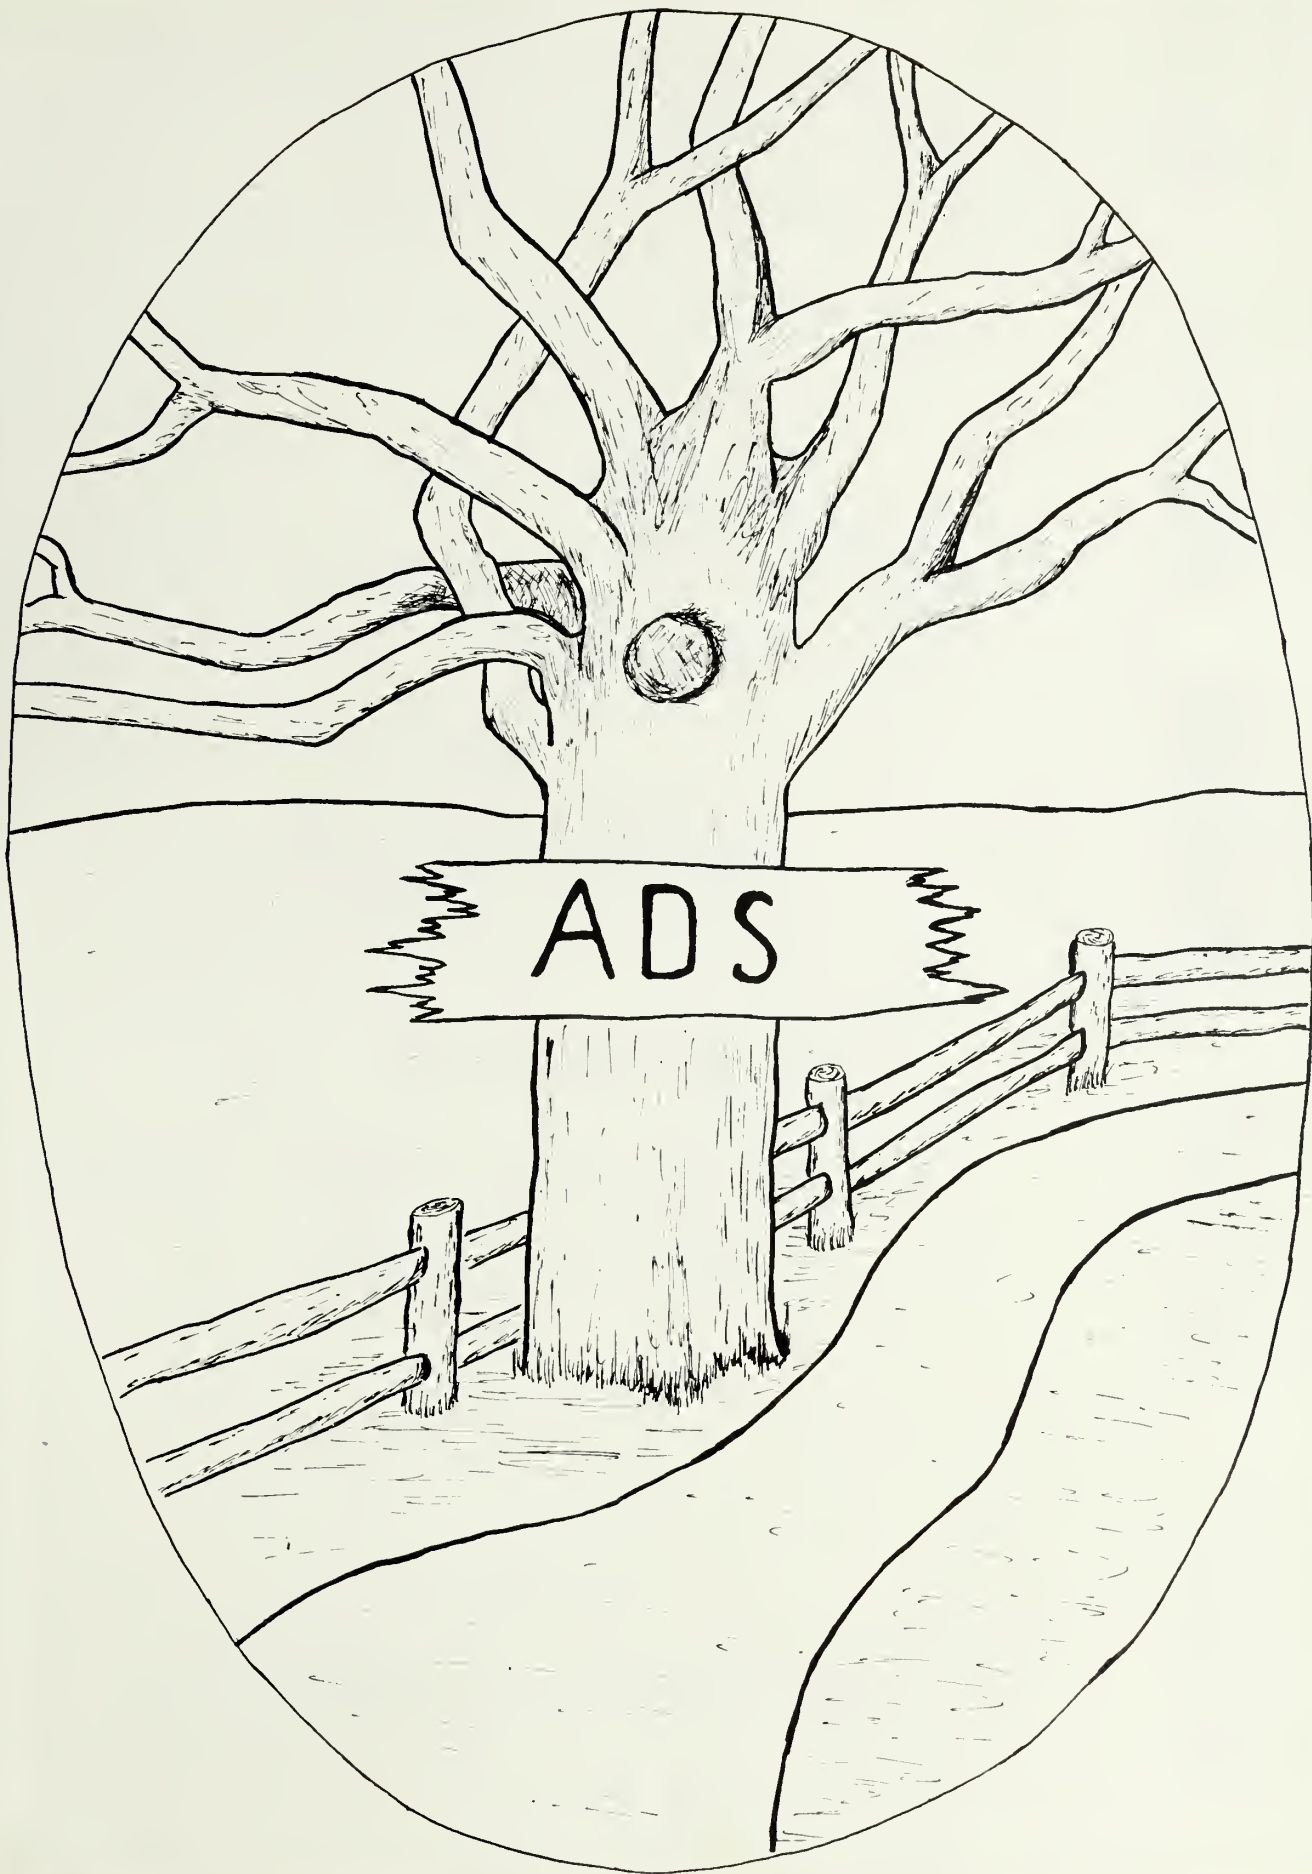

Dear Mrs. Brown, everybody's mother—full of advice and helpful criticism . . . the health unit—our refuge from the stormy blast of knowledge.

As our high school days draw to a close, we are left only with these our memories.

Thy name we'll cherish all our lives . . . for our roots are deeply planted here.

Mr. Schlosser accepts the yearbook dedication.

The highlight of the evening—the yearbooks are distributed.

The National Honor Society receives gold tassels for graduation.

Mike Satkauskas receives the athletic award.

Graduation

On June 8 the eighty-three members of the Class of 1962 were graduated from Grafton High School. The graduates proudly wearing the green and white were presented diplomas by Mr. William Whipple, Chairman of the School Committee.

We the Class of 1962 shall never forget this, our proudest and final moment as students of Grafton High School.
